principally because of the quality and size and partly because of the dust proof, germ proof wrapper. The wrapper idea has been copied, and imitated, but the bread never—it is beyond any equality.

Several weeks ago, being able to further improve the bread, we added an improvement as well as an identification mark to the package. It is a blue seal on each end, which thoroughly protects the loaf from our oven to your table.

Some things may be put off until tomorrow, but the news you must have today. The State Journal publishes today's news today.

SOCIETY

Society people today seem to be occupied chiefly with getting ready for tomorrow and tomorrow they will be busy distributing tags. Some of the society girls who drive the family car will take parties of girls out in their machines for the work of the day. Miss Marian Year, who was given an automobile by her parents for a graduating gift this spring, will have a party of young people, and the company will be chaperoned by Mrs. Marie Price Wear.

The tea given by Mrs. Marco Morrow at her home on Western avenue Thursday afternoon was attended by about a hundred guests. It was a delightful party complimentary to Mrs. J. A. Rosebloom of Mattoon, Ill., and Miss Bess Thompson of Kalamazoo, Mich., who are visiting at the Morrow home. The rooms were as cool as it is possible for the interior of a house to be when the outside is blistering and sizzling. The drawn blinds excluded the sun, and the electric fans did their best to make the guests comfortable. The freshness of garden flowers and the withering atmosphere without. A basket of pink sweet peas formed the centerpiece of the dining table. Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Rosebloom, and Miss Thompson stood in line to receive the guests. Mrs. Morrow wore a hand embroidered linen trimmed with tulle and brocade and fine lace. Mrs. Rosebloom wore a dainty tucked chiffon cut low at the neck and finished with strands of pearls. Miss Thompson's dress was white with lace and embroidery trimming. Mrs. Morrow was assisted by Mrs. A. L. Nichols, Mrs. George Crawford, Mrs. B. K. Nichols, and Mrs. Price Wear. Punch was served by Miss Marian Year and Miss Mildred Guild.

The principal event for today is the bridge party which Mrs. Anna Wilson gave at her home, 516 Topeka avenue, this afternoon. The affair was complimentary to Mrs. Wilson's daughter, Mrs. J. B. Farrow, of Muskogee, Okla., and Miss Lottie Briggs, of Atchison, who is visiting Mrs. Farrow at the Wilson home. About 30 guests attended the party.

The Girls' Guild of the First Methodist church will give a musicale and reception July 1 at the home of Mrs. J. B. Farrow, 723 West Sixth avenue. The hours will be from 4 to 6.

An English woman recently landed at New York and came straight to Topeka to live. Her life here has been a series of surprises. At first she was astonished not to find buffalo and Indians running through out main street and expected hourly that the rangers and cowboys would ride into the town, get drunk, shoot holes in the store buildings and make it uncomfortable for tenderloin. She would have had some respect for us if some of those things had happened, but now she thinks we pretend to be civilized and still don't know the first syllable of good form. For example, she made a shopping trip one morning and saw in one of the stores a woman in a lace gown cut with a train and a low neck and worn with black picture hat. She immediately inquired if people in Topeka entertained at so early an hour, and if so, did they wear evening costume. She finally found some one who could tell her that the over-dressed woman, whom she took to be a social leader, was a notorious character who had never seen the interior of the dwelling of an society woman in town. The English woman is now convinced that we are becoming metropolitan; for she had known of similar occurrences in London.

Ralston of Pittsburg, Pa., and her daughter, Mrs. Hearick, who has been visiting in the east for the past few months. Mrs. Ralston left for Pittsburg this morning, and Mrs. Hearick accompanied her for a few months' visit.

A few of the Gamma Phi boys and their girl friends were entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Duane Elmore in Westlawn. EVENING CHAT

BY RUTH CAMERON.

"The man I love doesn't love me. Tell me some way to make him," is the substance of the word-telegram that occasionally appears in my mail in one form or another.

Dear folks, if I could give any recipe for the solution of this trouble, you know that I'd be rich beyond the dreams of avarice or Midas or John D.

This Laxative for Children Free

I have preached to mothers for years to be careful what they give their children for bowel trouble. Not everything is fit for the delicate organs of a child. Cathartic pills are too strong even when crushed or broken in half, and salts and purgatives are both too strong and bad-tasting. Then what is the remedy? It should be a liquid, in which the taste is disguised so as to make it palatable, and it must be mild and not gripe. The remedy that fills these requirements is and druggists have sold it for me for a quarter of a century. Mothers are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents when they were children, and the grandparents are still using it. There is no better laxative obtainable for children, women and old folks, for these especially need a gentle though none the less effective remedy. It is a guaranteed cure for constipation, liver trouble, sick headache, heartburn, sour stomach, etc. Given to the child before retiring, or in the morning on arising, it will be relieved in a few hours, and a brief use of it as directed will prevent a recurrence of the trouble. To prove my claims I will send a free sample bottle to anyone on receipt of name and address. Then, if convinced, buy it as others do, of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Read what users say.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the Stomach, Liver or Bowels. Absolutely Free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 506 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

botany. She knew nothing about botany and hated sciences of all kinds, but she got a book and read up on it.

"I suppose he was surprised to find out how much you knew about botany," I said when she told me about it.

"Oh, no," she answered. "I didn't act as if I knew anything about it only as if I wanted to know. I did that reading not so that I could appear well informed, but so that I could ask intelligent questions and listen well. I knew that was all he'd want."

When I had brought him to the letter writing stage, I would make it a point, no matter how much I wanted to, not to answer his letter too quickly. Nothing gives value to a letter like having to wait longer than you expected for it. Even the letter you are comparatively indifferent to acquires an inflated value from delay—and the letter you are really anxious for—well, your eagerness for that gets fairly burned into your brain.

And, lastly, I'd go after him with all the arts that convention allowed me. Of course, I don't mean I would openly pursue him. That would probably be as unsuccessful as it was unwomanly—although I have seen the woman who hunts her quarry in the open field succeed.

What I mean is, that if I loved a man and were afraid he wasn't going to love me, I wouldn't sit still and supinely wish he might.

I would be actively set to work to study his tastes and his habits, his fads and his ideals, his sense of humor, his admirations and his dislikes, and in so far as I could do it in a womanly way, I would mold myself to their measure.

Impossible? To anything else but love—Yes.

Discharged from Hospital at 106.

New York, June 24.—Brooklyn surgeons are astonished at the vitality of Solomon Levy, 106 years old, who was discharged from a hospital yesterday as active as a boy after a fall down two flights of stairs on Wednesday. Goldwin Smith, the distinguished publicist, died recently from a fractured hip after a fall much less serious.

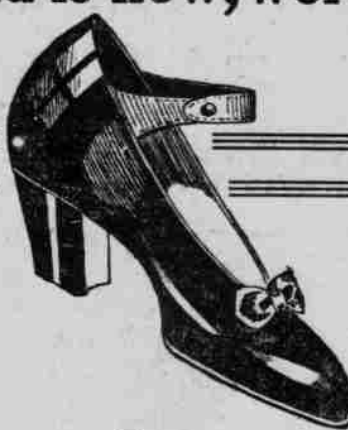

This baby is my grandson. His name is McKintley Dixon and I have witnessed that Syrup Pepsin has made this boy what he is in health. After he began using Syrup Pepsin he gained from 1 to 2 1/2 pounds a week. His weight was 24 pounds at four months of age, he had no trouble in cutting teeth.

He has ten or twelve teeth and is only six months old. You may copy any part of my letter to Dr. Caldwell. It is true and will stand in the Last Day.—G. W. Witten, Mirgo, Ky.

Will let you know what your wonderful remedy did for my little girl Dorothy. I had had different kinds of medicine and doctors, but have never in my life seen anything act so quick and without pain as your Syrup Pepsin. It is certainly the best medicine and I shall never be without it again and will recommend it to all my friends. Mrs. M. JOHNSON, 25 Dayton St., Kenosha, Wis.

I will state that I had stomach trouble of some kind; I was swollen; my breath was short; I had palpitation of the heart; I had no energy and I was dizzy. I took one bottle of Syrup Pepsin and now my blood is all gone; I have no more heart trouble; I feel good in every way. I had tried everything I could hear of and nothing did me any good until I commenced the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I am very thankful to you for a medicine, which I can heartily endorse and recommend, to all who are suffering from stomach troubles.—J. F. DANIELS, Saxon, Texas.
